The Iconography of Manhattan Island

By Mr. I. N. PHELPS STOKES

Volume I of this monumental work will be published early in December.

It is illustrated by over 350 reproductions of the rarest and most interesting paintings, drawings, prints, documents and maps in the public and private collections of Europe and America. These reproductions are most artistic and beautiful.

The work announces some important discoveries.

Great pains have been taken to insure accuracy of state-

The work will be published in four Imperial octavo volumes, in an edition limited to four hundred and two copies, of which only three hundred and sixty are offered for sale. Of these, three hundred and twenty-four are on the best English hand-made paper and thirty-six on Imperial Japanese paper.

A full prospectus sent on application.

SADIE LOVE

By AVERY HOPWOOD

A spirited romance of the most ig honeymoon that has ever taken place either on or off the stage. The dramatization of this novel has just been produced with great success, and bids fair to be as popular as Mr. Hopwood's play "Fair and Warmer."

An Epic Novel

"CENIUS" The Story of the Soul's Struggle Seen Through the Eyes of Genius By THEODORE DREISER

"If America can boast of a novelist now living of greater power, in-sight, imaginative sweep, let him step forward and claim the laurel wreath. Dreiser seems to me our greatest novelist now writing, and stined in the wise judgment of posterity to be given a place among the noteworthy writers of this age.

A Selected List of New and Recent Books

it may not be amiss to insist here upon the high percentage in pleasure and profit which books yield on their small cost. They have even been adapted to the requirements of modern living. Their format offers no difficulties in even the Translated smallest city apartment. There is even an added pleasure in the weeding out, the careful considerations of value and space which the new conditions have brought into the sport of collecting. It is then that books acquire a living quality; and it is then that one begins to make his own definitive selection for the famous five-foot bookshelf, and to plan for making it a ten-foot one. A book a week —that is one of the fixed charges in many a family budget; it should be the universal one.

worthy to stand beside the BUY BOOKS! GIVE THEM AN OPPORTU-NITY TO INTEREST YOU!

Children clamor for them-remember that, too! Whatever the toys that tempt them, however ingenious their mechanical contrivances, they must have their books or be disappointed in their Christmas mood. From the nursery to their introduction to grown-up literature, they are always reading. It is thus that they gain more education, more knowledge, often, than from their formal schooling. More American history is taught to our boys and girls by the story-tellers who write for them than by the text-books-and more patriotism. The appeal to the imagination at which modern education aims is made unerringly by such writers as, to name but one of very many, Everett T. Tomlinson. And do not forget the steadily growing, purposeful and withal romantic literature of the Boy Scout and Camp Girl movements!

OLD BOOKS, NEW BOOKS, AND BOOKS OF ALL TIME.

Do not insist upon the newness of a book; neither respect books only for their age. Talk about books, and listen to the talk of others. It will help you greatly in making your choice of the gifts you are planning for this season, and it will help you in your own planning for that reserve of perhaps as yet unrealized pleasure as well. Give thought to your book buying-and consult your bookseller. Shop early, give him time to give you his attention, talk freely with him. Every bookshop in New York has several good salesmen and saleswomen, held in great esteem by collectors and connoisseurs, and they are enthusiasts in their profession. Only give them a chance, and they will convert you from an occasional, holiday, book buyer, into an habitual one. And you will thank them for the service and its results.

PERIODICALS AS HOLIDAY GIFTS.

Here is a form of Christmas giving which is not nearly sufficiently practised. For children the choice almost automatically suggests itself-"St. Nicholas." For grown-ups the range is infinite. Reviews for information, magazines that offer both belles-lettres and knowledge, periodicals devoted to the interests of women, to sports and fashions, to country life and the house beautiful. There are the weeklies. With us they are not so many that they need enumeration. And remember that to many a professional man or woman the authoritative organ of his speciality may be a necessary and yet a luxury not lightly contracted for.

At this crisis in the world's history in the making, periodical literature has, indeed, become almost indispensable. It supplements the news of the day, sifts it, and, in some measure, fixes what is likely in it to have lasting significance. And a year's subscription as a Christmas gift has the beautiful quality of being a gift twelve times re-
